The South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY July 22d, to MONDAY July 29th, 1751.

Meſſage from his MAJESTY to both Houſes of Parliament, April 26, 1751.

GEORGE R.

HIS majeſty, having it entirely at heart to ſecure the future welfare and happineſs of his people, has maturely conſidered, that nothing can conduce ſo much (under the protection of the divine providence) to the preſervation of the proteſtant ſucceſſion in his royal family, and the ſupport of the religion, laws, and liberties of theſe kingdoms (which have been always moſt dear to him) as the making proper proviſions for the care and tuition of the perſon of his ſucceſſor, and for the regular adminiſtration of the government, in caſe ſuch ſucceſſor ſhould be of tender years; by means whereof their ſafety and princely education may be ſecured, the public peace, and good order, maintained, and the ſtrength and glory of the crown of Great-Britain ſuffer no diminution: For theſe reaſons, his majeſty, out of his paternal affection and tenderneſs for his royal family, and for all his faithful ſubjects, earneſtly recommends it to both houſes of parliament, to take this weighty affair into their moſt ſerious deliberation; and propoſes to their conſideration, that, when the imperial crown of theſe realms ſhall deſcend to any of the iſſue of his ſon, the late prince of Wales, being under the age of eighteen years, the princeſs dowager of Wales, their mother, ſhould be guardian of the perſon of ſuch ſucceſſor, and regent of theſe kingdoms, until they ſhall attain ſuch age; with ſuch powers, and limitations, as ſhall appear neceſſary and expedient for theſe important purpoſes.

The humble ADDRESS of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in Parliament aſſembled, April 26. 1751.

WE your majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the lords ſpiritual and temporal, and commons, in parliament aſſembled, approach your royal throne, with hearts fill'd, at the ſame time, with the deepeſt ſenſe of gratitude to your majeſty, and with the moſt ſerious and anxious concern for the future welfare of our country.

To return your majeſty our thanks for your moſt gracious meſſage, falls infinitely ſhort of thoſe ſentiments, with which the ſubject of it inſpires us. It excites in us the moſt ſenſible feeling of all thoſe bleſſings, which we have enjoyed, during your auſpicious and glorious reign; of the mildneſs and benignity of your government; and of that conſtant protection, which your majeſty has always extended to our religion, laws, and liberties; which you have demonſtrated by your conduct, as well as declared by your royal words, to be moſt dear to you. Happy would it be for all your faithful ſubjects, if heaven, in mercy to theſe kingdoms, would graciouſly permit a reign, ſo diſtinguiſhed with every mark of goodneſs, that can endear a Britiſh monarch to his people, to be prolonged beyond the ordinary date. To look forward to its period, anticipates a grief, which no words can expreſs. Your majeſty's greatneſs of mind, ſhewn in your meſſage, has called upon us, and ſet us the example, to enter into ſuch conſiderations, as the high importance of the occaſion requires.

NOT content with being the great inſtrument of our happineſs, during your own time, your majeſty has pointed out to us a generous concern to provide for the continuance of that happineſs (as far as human foreſight can do) after God ſhall have deprived us of the ineſtimable bleſſing of your immediate care. In return for this paternal goodneſs, permit us to aſſure your majeſty that we will loſe no time in taking into our conſideration the weighty affair laid before us in your meſſage.

We are truly ſenſible of the high and eminent qualities of her royal highneſs, the princeſs dowager of Wales; and we look upon what your majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to propoſe to our conſideration, as the reſult of your wiſdom and tender concern for your royal family, and the intereſt of theſe kingdoms; and we ſhall have the moſt dutiful regard of what your majeſty has been pleaſed ſo wiſely to recommend.

In our deliberations on this important ſubject, we ſhall think it our duty, as well as our eſſential intereſt, to have the ſtricteſt and moſt zealous attention to the preſervation of the proteſtant ſucceſſion, as ſettled by law, in your royal family; the numerous hopeful branches whereof, formed by your inſtruction, and led by your example, we look upon as ſo many pledges of the ſecurity of our religious and civil rights to future generations.

May it pleaſe the divine providence to grant your majeſty ſuch confirmed health, and length of days, as may render thoſe proviſions, which your wiſdom has ſuggeſted to us on this occaſion, unneceſſary in the event; that we may very long enjoy the benefits of your gracious government; and your majeſty the dutiful and affectionate returns of a moſt obliged, loyal, and grateful people.

His Majeſty's moſt gracious Anſwer.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I Return you my hearty thanks for this very dutiful and affectionate addreſs. The zeal you expreſs for me, and my family, and the ſenſe you ſhew of my care and concern for the intereſt of my people, is very agreeable to me.

BOSTON, June 10.

Thurſday laſt Mr. John Dixcy, Maſter of a Marblehead fiſhing Schooner, came to town and declared, that on the 26th of May paſt, in the evening, about 6 leagues from Cape Sable, he met with a French man of war of 36 guns and 300 men, including 50 marines, and the next morning was deſired by the French Capt. to come on board, which he did, and was told by the Frenchman that he was bound to Annapolis-Royal, and that his buſineſs was to remove the French inhabitants back to ſome place, the name of which Mr. Dixcy has forgot——That the affairs relating to the boundaries, &c. were ſettled, and that he ſaw Governor Shirley in Paris, about 7 weeks before.—That he ſhould ſend from Annapolis to Canada, and wait 'till he had an anſwer, which he expected in a month, and that then he ſhould go to Cape-Breton. During the converſation, Mr. Dixcy aſked the Captain, whether it was war, or like to be war? who anſwered, no, it was all peace, tho' Capt. Rous had done an ill action, in firing on a French Brigantine after he had haled her, before ſhe had time to return an anſwer, and enquired where Rous was; and being told he was gone to England, he (the Frenchman) ſaid he believed he was at Halifax, and then aſked if there was any Engliſh men of war at Annapolis, to which Mr. Dixcy anſwer'd he believed not, and then took his leave, but next morning ſaw the ſhip ſteering up the Bay of Fundy. Her nettings were fill'd with oakham, caſks, &c. and every thing in ſuch order as if they ſoon expected an engagement: And let Monſieur ſay what he will about his going to Annapolis, and ſending an expreſs to Canada, 'tis probable he is gone to ſupply the French and Indians at St. John's and St. Croix (where they are ſaid to be fortifying) with warlike ſtores, and doubtleſs would be glad to meet and pick a quarrel with ſome of his majeſty's ſmall ſhips of war, in revenge for Capt. Rous's late offence, in taking their Brigantine that was going to St. John's.

By a veſſel from Chignecto we have advice, that Col. Lawrence who commands our troops poſted there, having receiv'd a reinforcement of men from Halifax, was preparing to attack the French and Indians in their camp at a ſmall diſtance from him.

Halifax, May 13. By the Snow Royal Eſcape, in 22 days from England, we have news that 120,000 l. is granted for this ſettlement, part of which we hear is already ſhipp'd, and may be ſoon expected, and that three regiments of Soldiers are alſo deſign'd for us very ſoon.——Some time paſt a ſmall party of Capt. Joſeph Gorham's rangers were attack'd by 40 of the enemy at Minas; ſeveral of our people were wounded, particularly Lieut. Arbuthnot, whoſe leg was ſo ſhatter'd, that it is ſince cut off, and his life almoſt deſpaired of.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, dated May 28, 1751.

— We hear the French at Louiſburg, have ſtopt eleven Engliſh veſſels that lately arrived there from different ports; and are very hard at work in fortifying themſelves ſtronger than ever:—— There is great talk here of a war again.——

Boſton, June 17. By a veſſel from Chignecto, in Nova-Scotia, we have advice, that Col. Lawrence, commander of our troops there, having ſent out a Party of 150 men, to take a view of a poſt occupied by the enemy, a ſkirmiſh inſued, in which a French officer, and three or four others were killed, and we had three of our people wounded.

New-York, June 24. We hear that this day, his Excellency our Governor intends to embark for Albany, to meet the chiefs of the ſix nations of Indians there.

The TRUE

BRITISH OIL,

(By the KING'S PATENT.)

Juſt imported, and to be ſold by the Printer hereof.

THIS OIL is an effectual remedy (if curable) for many diſorders incident to human bodies. It is an abſolute cure for all ſcorbutick and rheumatick diſeaſes. It cures by bathing before the fire all old contuſions and contractions of the nerves, wither'd limbs, ſtrains, ulcers, old ſores, and all fixed and wandering pains: It greatly relieves in the palſey; cures lameneſs, ſwellings, inflamations, St. Anthony's fire, takes away all blackneſs of a fall or bruiſe in an hour's time, and allays all ſwellings that uſually attend ſuch accidents: It cures all green wounds and cuts, and takes out the fire from all burns and ſcalds (if ſpeedily applied) by the firſt intention; therefore no family ought to be without this medicine in their houſes. It is almoſt an infallible remedy for the rickets in children; as alſo a certain cure for the leproſy of ever ſo long ſtanding.——Inwardly taken, it cures ulcers of the lungs, ſhortneſs of breath, phthiſick coughs, and almoſt all pains and diſorders of the breaſt and lungs; it alſo cures deafneſs to admiration; it is of excellent uſe to all farmers and graziers, as it cures all ſurfeits in Cows or Horſes, and piſſing of blood, alſo hardneſs or ſtoppage in the maw; the maggots and mange in Sheep and Dogs, and makes the hair and wool ſoon grow again. It is the moſt uſeful medicine ever yet found out for all Captains or Maſters of ſhips to take with them in their reſpective voyages, as it is an abſolute cure for the moſt obſtinate ſcurvy in any climate, as many of the Sailors belonging to Great-Britain will teſtify.

The above OIL will expel poiſon, 'tis good for the bite of a mad dog, and is an abſolute cure for the moſt obſtinate itch that has baffled the force of all other medicines.

☞ And the public are deſired to take notice, that all bottles not ſealed with the ſame as in the margin of the printed bills of direction appears, (which are given by the printer hereof with the bottles) are counterfeits and uſeleſs medicines, ſome of the venders and ſellers of which are now proſecuting with the utmoſt rigour of the law.

The Royal Patent MEDICINAL SNUFF,

Which radically cures moſt Distempers incident to Human Nature,

To be ſold, by Croſthwaite, Brown & Drakeford, at their ſtore in George-Town, and Thomas Croſthwaite in Charles-Town, price 15 ſh. per Paper.

The Power, Operation, Uſe, and Efficacy of the Royal Patent Medicinal Snuff.

THIS excellent medicine operates on the head as a purgative, on the ſtomach and lungs as a diſſolvent of the coagulated Phlegm; and, on the blood and juices, as an alterative.

By its operations on the head, it effectually cures confirmed agues lodged there, &c. deafneſs, blindneſs and weakneſs of ſight, and throws off the common pains in the head and gums in a few minutes; lunacies, bloody flux, or piles and jaundice in any degree; impoſthumations or ulcers, inwardly or outwardly, lethargy, gout, polypuſſes in the noſe, apoplexy and various other, and ſimilar diſorders.

By the power on the ſtomach and lungs, &c. it gradually diſſolves coagulated matter; and by the channel of the noſe, by ſtool, urine, or perſpiration, inſenſibly carries off every kind of putrefaction; and thus removing all obſtruction, or oppreſſion on the breaſt, ſtomach, or lungs, it totally eradicates the aſthma, catarrh and phthiſic; recovers to the ſtomach and nerves their genial tone and action; fortifies the breaſt, and utterly annihilates all hyſterical diſorders.

By its efficacious, alterative, and purifying quality, it cleanſes the blood and reins, reſtores the juices to their priſtine ſtate, baniſhes all relicks of former infections, and unſkilful phyſicking, and re-eſtabliſhes the whole animal oeconomy in all their natural functions.

Its ſingular uſe and excellence conſiſts in its being pleaſant in the taking, not hindering buſineſs, travelling, or is interrupted by the common courſe of eating and drinking.

It may be taken any hour of the day, or at any time of the night. And the patient is ſo far from being liable to catching cold after it, that it fortifies the head againſt taking cold; and never fails to have a very happy effect after drinking too much, or bad wine. It is likewiſe ſo free from any diſagreeable operation, that it neither gripes or nauſeates.

In a word, as all diſtempers affect the head principally or eventually, ſo is the noſe preſumed to be the proper channel by which all wholeſome phyſic ſhould paſs: And, however ſingular this may appear, we humbly apprehend it capable of anatomical demonſtration, as well as experimental proof.

Strayed from Charles-Town, ſome months ſince, a large bay horſe, about 15 hands high, very ſtrong limb'd, paces a little, no white ſpot about him, branded with an H and a flower de luce (or ſomething like it) riſing from the middle line of the H, and formerly belonged to Mr. Gourdin at Santee. Whoever brings the ſaid horſe to the Printer hereof, ſhall have 5 l. reward.—If ſaid horſe ſhall be found detain'd in any plantation after the publication of this advertiſement, whoever unlawfully detains him, will be proſecuted by Peter Timothy.
